Propose $3000 Bond Program Of $4,750,000

3 New Buildings, 2 Additions; Citizens Suggest 65c Rate Hike

Construction of two elementary schools, a junior high school, additions to Cook County Junior high school and additional high school physical education facilities was recommended to the Granite City school board last night by Leo Konzen and John Mullen, co-chairmen of a citizens' study group created last February.

They also proposed a 40-cent increase in the education fund tax rate, the maximum change in the rate ceiling that can be voted at a referendum.

The construction program would require an estimated 25-cent bond in the building fund tax rate, for a total rate hike of 65 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation.

Cost of the new construction was estimated at $4,750,000.

Explore New Concepts

The co-chairmen also called for increased attention to ways of providing education more efficiently, including study of "new concepts" currently being tested elsewhere in the United States.

They urged formation of a study group including educators, industrialists, businessmen and home owners.

Indicating that its response to the recommendations will be rapid, the school board scheduled an adjourned meeting for 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday to permit consideration and possible action. The session is to be devoted to the citizens' report.

May Call Election

A special election this fall is considered likely.

Board members voiced appreciation for the study led by Konzen, an attorney, and Mullen, a teacher, and made plans to prepare a resolution commending the co-chairmen and all who participated.

The co-chairmen noted that conferences have been held with members of the board of education, teaching staff, and administrative personnel.

Bi-State Plans $35.7-Million Transit Program

A broad-scale plan for major improvements in transit service for the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area which would entail construction of a bus roadway on the lower deck of Eads bridge and use of the railroad tunnel in downtown St. Louis for bus operation was announced yesterday by the Bi-State Development Agency.

Cost of the improvements which were projected as an "interim plan" for upgrading of the transit system pending eventual development of a rapid transit system was fixed at $35,700,000.

Robert S. Knapp, chairman of the Bi-State Agency Board of Commissioners, and John C. Baine, president of Transit Services Corporation, which manages the Bi-State Transit System for the development agency, outlined the plan shortly before noon yesterday after the program officially was accepted by the Bi-State Agency board in regular meeting.

Prime Objectives

Knapp said the program, developed by Transit Services Corporation in collaboration with W. C. Gilman & Co., Inc., consulting engineer for the transit operation, had as its prime objectives improved comfort and convenience for the bus-riding public.

He said the plan "will give the residents of this metropolitan area the finest possible surface bus system, but to make the program a reality, Bi-State will need the cooperation and assistance of all citizens in the area; the states, counties and municipalities."

The plan also called for local and state traffic authorities and the entire civic and business community.

A period of from two to three years would be required to complete the program, Knapp said.

Pfc McFarland, 19, Killed Sunday In Vietnam Action

A young Granite City marine who told his parents by letter this week—"I am not afraid to die for my country"—was killed in action Sunday while fighting with the 26th Marine Regiment near Da Nang.

Marine Pfc William Lloyd "Billy" McFarland, 19, a machine-gunner with the 1st Weapons Platoon, Third Battalion, 26th Marines, suffered a fatal wound to the head Sunday, when shot by enemy forces as his unit clashed with North Vietnamese troops in the vicinity of Da Nang, South Vietnam.

Further details of the action in which the Marine lost his life are not yet available.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McFarland, 2810 Madison avenue, were notified of the serviceman's death shortly after 9 a.m. yesterday by Capt. A. J. Rye, of the USMC Naval Reserve Station, Lambert Field, St. Louis.

The Marine is the 20th Quad-City serviceman to die as a result of the war in Vietnam and the 20th killed in action against the enemy since December 1965.

Lifelong Resident

Born in Granite City and a lifelong resident here, Pfc McFarland was graduated in June 1967 from Granite City high school. He had observed his 19th birthday in May while home on leave from the San Diego Marine Corps training center.

Prior to enlisting in the Marine Corps on Jan. 29, the serviceman was an apprentice bricklayer with the Floyd Form Construction Co. His father is a former local brick contractor and two brothers also are brickmasons.

In a letter received Tuesday by his parents, Pfc McFarland wrote—"I was scared when I first came over here, but I'm not afraid to die for my country if I have to." He had been in combat with the Third Marine Division in Vietnam for less than two weeks.

Pfc McFarland was a member of Concordia Lutheran Church.

He was a member of the Granite City High School band and was a member of the Granite City High School football team.

Madison Board, Teachers Tanking

$56-$140 Monthly Pay Hikes Declined; All But One School Open

A total package offer of $107,600 by the Madison board of education for salary hikes and fringe benefits, an increase of $34,600 over its previous offer, was turned down by the Madison Federation of Teachers last night as negotiations were resumed for the first time since Sept. 7.

The bargaining talks are to continue at 1:30 p.m. today at the Madison city hall while all but Blair school remained open today despite picketing.

Salary increases offered by the board included $68 per month for new teachers, $78 for the intermediate level and $100 at the top level of the salary schedule, while teachers with 12 years of experience, would be receiving $140 per month more.

Monthly Salaries

They would raise monthly salaries at the bachelor's degree level ranging from $711 to $1076, at the master's degree level from $789 to $1156 and the master's degree plus 30 graduate hours from $822 to $1188.

During 10 hours of negotiations which ended after 12:30 a.m. today, the union, represented by its attorney, Rex Carr, and salary committee, reduced its package demands from $151,000 to $107,600.

Shopping Center Planned in GC On Nameoki Rd.

$1,300,000 Project By Henry Ross Will Be North of Tri Mor Bowl

Plans for a new shopping center development in the area between Pontoon and Nameoki roads with an initial outlay of $1.3 million were announced today by Henry W. Ross, president of Henry Ross Construction Co.

First phase of the construction will get under way as soon as action is taken on rezoning ten residential lots in a 16-acre tract to commercial status, Ross said.

The remainder of the tract already has commercial zoning.

At the same time plans were announced for rezoning construction within 30 days of a new $140,000 restaurant at 3901-3911 Nameoki road by Momma Mami's Restaurant Corp., a nationwide chain restaurant organization which was founded and is headquartered in Granite City.

These units will leave substantial room in the 16-acre tract for construction of other shops and stores for which negotiations already are under way, the developer said. Ross said he is unable at this time to make public the name of the department store firm and the grocery company that will occupy the first shopping center.

The contractor said he anticipates no difficulty in obtaining rezoning of the ten residential lots since all of the surrounding area already is zoned as commercial property.

Petition for the rezoning was presented to the Granite City council Monday night and was referred to the Planning Commission, which is expected to be given the council for action in its Oct. 21 meeting.

Boundaries of Site

Ross announced that the 16-acre tract on which the development is planned extends from a point just north of Tri Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki road, northward to the intersection of the area fronts on Nameoki road and is bounded on the west by the railroad tracks, but the city council has specified a 50-foot bumper strip be established between the west boundary of the shopping center and the track as right-of-way.

Rev. Paul Surbey, pastor of St. John United Church of Christ, will receive the state-wide Medicine and Religion Award, to be presented at the annual meeting of the Illinois Medical Society in Springfield on Oct. 5.

Two awards are presented each year, one to a doctor and the other to a minister. The award is based on the ability of the individual to get the two professions more closely associated for the betterment of a patient.

Dr. E. H. This submitted the name of Rev. Surbey to the IMS Committee on Religion and Medicine, for a final selection. He pointed out that Rev. Surbey's education and work in this field has provided a background for this award.

Rev. Surbey has served St. John Church since 1954. Completing his Master's Degree in Pastoral Psychology at Eden Theological Seminary, St. Louis, in June 1967 he also completed 12 weeks clinical training at St. Louis State Hospital.

He served as ministerial representative on the Social Concerns Council of Granite City during the initial year of its existence. This group, spearheaded by the administrator of the local St. Elizabeth Hospital and local physicians, initiated numerous out-patient services, and closer cooperation among the various professions.

"Rev. Surbey is presently serving on the board of directors of the local Mental Health Clinic. His clientele for marriage counseling come from all faiths and walks of life. Doctors and lawyers feel confident to make referrals to him," Dr. This said.

Aldermen Taking 2 Weeks to Reconnoiter Council Reduction Petitions

A 40-minute debate highlighted by a shoving match ended Monday night's Granite City council members as petitions with 180 signatures were presented calling for reorganization to reduce the council size from two aldermen to one in each ward.

The scuffle occurred as Sixth Ward Alderman Richard Fry and the floor and commented the council members were "be having like catfish" in trying to avoid acceptance of the petitions.

An objection to the remark was made by the other Sixth Ward Alderman, Gerald Partney, as Fry said he didn't believe anyone would do anything about it.

Partney replied, "I will. I'm jumping to his feet, and the shoving match started."

Committee Question Still Plagues GC Council, Mayor

"Whose committees prevail?" was still a continuing question for Granite City council members Monday night.

The council majority felt last Thursday's court ruling dismissing the mayor's petition for a declaratory judgment provided the answer, but Mayor Partney pointed to his appeal which would hold last week's ruling in abeyance.

Since it was not known Monday night if the appeal actually had been filed, council members called once more for the suspension of the regular order of business and to open discussions with unfinished business.

It was learned Tuesday that the order of Judge Foss Meyer at Edwardsville had not been forwarded to Mayor Partney's lawyers, and the appeal was still pending Monday night.

During the council proceedings Monday night, Mayor Partney called upon Alderman Fry in the absence of vacationing Alderman Rutledge to present the Finance committee report.

Point of Information

Alderman Boyd called for a point of information. "I see we're continuing to go the same way," he commented. "I thought the problems were resolved in court, but I see you're calling on Fry for the report." Fry had motioned for acceptance of the comptroller's monthly financial statement.

"This is taking up a lot of our time to go through these motions and then have to re-do it all," Boyd said.

He added that the 13-member majority preferred to hear reports from council members. "I see in the paper you might appeal the court decision, but if you continue to operate this way, it will do nothing but hinder progress and detract from the meetings."

Partney replied that he had asked his lawyers to file an appeal. "Since the court action was on a motion to dismiss and there was no hearing, I'm not satisfied. I believe the appeal was filed in the Appellate Court today."

Boyd turned to City Atty. Allen and called for an opinion. Allen said the motion to dismiss the mayor's suit had been upheld and that an appeal was in order, adding that he did not believe it would be appropriate to comment more with the appeal pending.

Boyd Asks Questions

"I have two questions," Boyd continued. "We want to know where we are and if the appeal is filed, then where do we stand?"

The city attorney answered that an appeal would stop any action of a court.

Basarich pointed out that no one had been notified of the appeal.

"Your attorney will receive the notice," Allen answered.

Boyd stated he felt the judge had sustained the council and that the committees selected by the council should begin to function.

"They would if no appeal has been filed," Allen pointed out.

Allen called for suspension of the regular order of business so the council meeting could proceed.

Partney reminded him that Fry's motion under the Finance committee report was still on the floor. The motion was defeated 4-10-11.

Voting for it were Whitmer, Nomm, Fry and Jarrett. Opposed were Dullais, Moertien, Bartosiak, Boyd, Paulos, Green, Basarich, Parnley, Robertson, Daves and Johnson.

The motion for suspension of committee reports then was made by Bartosiak and was approved.

Nomm proceeded to present the ordinances on hand, and it sick leave payments.

Moertien gave the finance reports, gaining approval for the comptroller's report, the half-month payroll, bill list and the ordinances on hand, and it sick leave payments.

Inadequate Room, Old Schools
Today, the school district must rent rooms for instructional purposes, use as classrooms space which had been designed and is needed for storage and utility purposes, use building space which provide almost no recreational areas, and use buildings which no longer meet modern education requirements.

"A recent study by SIMAPC has recommended certain structures be phased out of use. A detailed study of the student population growth has been made by the board of education, and a separate study was conducted by SIMAPC.

"The results of both studies predicted continued growth of the total student population. Also considered was the shift in population northward and eastward. This trend is guaranteed by the geographic boundaries of the district.

30-1 Pupil-Teacher Ratio
At the present time, the average pupil-teacher ratio in the district is approximately 30 to 1, a figure above the national average.

"A study has been made by the board of the various groupings of classes to insure the most efficient use of available space. The size, location and method of construction of school buildings, and the long-range requirements for school sites, have been elements of consideration in development of existing school buildings.

"The existing school buildings have reached their maximum use, which is beyond their original design. To proceed into the future without positive steps to secure additional elementary and junior high facilities would only unjustifiably ignore all studies made to date and the findings predicated upon them.

The co-chairmen recommended that the board seek at a referendum the authority to build the proposed facilities, which were described as needed to properly house and educate the youth of this district in the immediate future.

Legal Doubt on Pay-As-You-Go
They continued, "The methods of financing the new structures were also studied.

"Recent legislation concerning accumulation of funds for construction purposes has left unresolved the legality of accumulation of funds for new buildings.

"Clearly, the appropriation for such use was unlawful before. And the serious doubt that exists on the recent legislation does not allow reliance on the program.

"We recommend that every endeavor be made to encourage the state government to adopt enabling legislation to clearly authorize the accumulation of funds for construction of new buildings, if approved by public referendum, thereby eliminating one of the greatest wastes of taxpayer dollars, which is the interest paid to private concerns for the construction of public works.

Rural Benefits of 24th District Nearly $9 Million in 1968, Cong. Price Reports

Farmers living within the 24th Congressional District of Madison and St. Clair counties benefited by nearly $9 million in expenditures for farm subsidies and farm related programs during the 1968 fiscal year ending June 30, Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) reported today.

In the second of a series of reports concerning federal expenditures within the 24th District, Congressman Price said the amount represents more than a $3 million increase over benefits paid during the last previous fiscal year. He said he has long encouraged the Department of Agriculture in Washington to give special attention to Madison and St. Clair county farm problems and he feels this was a factor in the increased payments.

The congressman reported that a breakdown of the figures show the department paid $4.4 million in Madison county and $4.3 million in St. Clair county.

Farmers Needs Pressing
Congressman Price said he felt that the farmer and others who reside in rural areas have been overshadowed by the troubles of the city and urban areas, and that the needs of the farmer are less real or pressing. He said that for that reason he is particularly pleased with the increased assistance to rural areas during fiscal 1968 and that he hopes to find an other increase for the 1969 fiscal year.

Total payments within the 24th Congressional district for 1968 amounted to $8,788,131, Price's report said, with $4,428,969 going to Madison county farm programs, and $4,359,162 paid St. Clair county.

Largest payments were made in connection with programs of the Commodity Credit Corporation. Payments to Madison county farmers in feed grain allotments under the CCC program amounted to $247,000 for 1968, an increase from $242,718, while those paid St. Clair county farmers in this same category amounted to $474,000, an increase from $471,720 paid out in the entire 24th District.

Wheat payments, also under the CCC program, amounted to $855,621 in Madison county and $1,037,944 in St. Clair county for a total of $1,893,565 distributed.

Commodity Loans High
Price-support loans on commodities, another phase of the Commodity Credit Corporation program, totaled $922,012, with $506,799 paid in Madison county and $415,213 in St. Clair county. Rurel Election loans in the district during fiscal '68 totaled $871,638, including payments of $681,378 in Madison county and $190,260 in St. Clair county.

Expenditures for operation of the federal soil conservation program totaled $759,039, with $109,448 of the amount paid in Madison county. Soil and water loans totaled $105,000, with all of the amount allocated in Madison county.

Conservation Service allotments for assistance to conservation districts, communities and other cooperating units included $105,000 in Madison county and $19,282 in St. Clair county for a total of $124,282.

Discuss Stallings School
Later in the meeting, Eugene Gargac of the Stallings PTA called for a SIMAPC recommendation to "phase out" Stallings school and voiced concern in view of the large number of pupils residing near it.

Supt. Bob J. Davis arranged to review the SIMAPC report with Stallings representatives after last night's meeting, and board members stressed that they are not committed to the act enactment of the planning report.

The size of the Stallings campus and the age of the building have prompted consideration of eventual replacement of the school, Gargac noted that many improvements to the school were made in the past year.

During the meeting, the board voted to use school sections of the SIMAPC analysis as a planning guide, and to so advise other local governmental agencies of its intent.

Roadway Closing Complaints

Two complaints registered by aldermen during Monday night's Granite City council session concerned construction sites.

Sixth Ward Alderman Farnley asked for public announcement by the storm water sewer contractor, S. M. Wilson & Co., should Victory drive be closed.

"The only access route to the area is St. Clair avenue when Terminal avenue is closed, and it causes problems also for emergency vehicles."

Mayor Partney said police, firemen and ambulance firms had been advised of the closing, and that he did not foresee any further complete closing of roadway except possibly for short periods.

Nom complained that Sangamo Construction Co., contractor for Route 151, had closed off both West 26th street and Rock road, leaving only Denver street open for access to the canal harbor. By Monday, Rock road had been reopened, Mayor Partney reported.

MORE ABOUT Bi-State Plans

years would be necessary to develop the overall plan, Knapp said. He pointed out that the development of rapid transit operations in the metropolitan area is ten to 15 years away, and that the "interim plan" was developed "not as a stop-gap program" but as a move to give the public an efficient transit system providing the maximum in speed, comfort and convenience, from now until the period when rapid transit becomes a reality.

Contains 12 Proposals
The plan calls for 12 specific measures to improve bus service generally. Conversion of the lower deck of Eads bridge and the present downtown rail tunnel for bus use is among the major proposals. This phase of the development alone would cost an estimated $18 million.

The plan recommends reserving curb lanes for busses on certain arterial roads during rush hours to expedite service and reduce traffic congestion. It also calls for establishment of a frequent express bus service in the downtown area employing ten air-conditioned "minibuses" with a seating capacity of 23 persons each to connect the eastern outer perimeter of the St. Louis downtown district with the core area and the new riverfront complex. Another major step of the plan calls for purchase of 500 new buses, all equipped with air-conditioning, two-way radios and the latest exhaust control devices. These would replace the present fleet of 425 buses and add an additional 75 for proposed express line expansions.

Positive Approach to Life Urged by Hoener

Positive mental attitudes are the key to success, Madison Rotarians were told yesterday by Gordon Hoener, marketing and management consultant, who urged that each individual develop confidence and belief in himself, other people and his company.

Using quotations from 2800 B.C. nad 1857 A.D. to show that the world has always had a troubled outlook, Hoener stressed that this need not prevent an individual from solving his own problems through utilization of his strong points, organized action and maintained enthusiasm.

Utilizing mind reading demonstrations to explain extra-sensory perception, a field in which he has earned national attention, the speaker in one instance chose a key from one of six Rotarians to unlock chains shackling Rotarians Fred Schmidt and Eli Solomon; any of the other five keys would have failed, it was shown.

Program chairman was Anthony Zedek. President Will Radmin said the club will be visited at its next weekly luncheon by District Governor Hobart Blair of Virden.

MORE ABOUT Shopping

At-way for a proposed new north-south street. The developer said that there are 13 houses on the property, located principally on the ten lots that must be rezoned, that will be razed to make way for the department store and supermarket building.

Cost of the building has been estimated at $1.3 million, but future expansion of the shopping center already projected will bring the total development cost to about $2.5 million, he explained.

Options Obtained
Ross said he has obtained options on all property tracts needed for the development and that beginning of construction work will begin "immediately" after the rezoning matter is cleared.

The Momma Mia Restaurant to be built in the same area will be part of a series of projects to be built in various parts of the country under franchises allocated by the corporation headed as president by Andrew Rapoff, an associate of the Rozicki Realty Co. here.

All plans for the restaurant have been finalized and it is expected work on the restaurant construction will start by the latter part of October at the latest, it was said.

The restaurant will be of Italian architectural design with interior Italian decor and will specialize in Italian foods. American-type foods also will be available in limited varieties.

Amvets Invite Vietnam Veterans to Join Post

Wickham said five Vietnam returnees are to join the local veterans' group. Additional information on the project will be announced at a meeting of the Amvet Fifth Division, at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 13, in the Polish Hall, Madison.

Promotion of a weekly "Turkey Shoot," sponsored by Post 51 each Sunday starting at noon on the grounds of the Post Home, 5100 Lakeview drive, was discussed. Wickham said the "shoot" is the only fund-raising project by the veteran's group to support charitable enterprises.

He urged the public to participate, noting that free refreshments are available and prizes include hams, turkeys and sides of bacon.

First Phase of Venice-Madison Plan Outlined

A preliminary planning report on housing and neighborhood analysis, along with a survey of existing land use in Venice and Madison, were outlined in the Venice and Madison Planning Commissions in a joint meeting Tuesday night.

The report, part of a master plan for development of the two-city area, has been compiled by the Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission and was presented in the meeting by Ronald Darden, a SIMAPC staff member.

Other phases of the report are expected to be completed within the next eight to nine months.

Discussion at the Tuesday session, held in the council chambers of the Venice city hall, primarily was concerned with housing and highway access problems in both cities.

Highway Needs Explained

The phase of the report presented in the meeting dealt with lack of adequate housing facilities due to age deterioration in both high and low highway access problems that must be given consideration before physical improvements are planned in residential, commercial and industrial areas.

The planning program by SIMAPC was authorized by Venice and Madison city officials about a year ago to make available a comprehensive plan necessary to application for federal funds in connection with housing, highway, sewer or other improvement projects.

Planning commissions of both communities will review the report and will meet later with SIMAPC officials to discuss projected action under the report recommendations.

Area PTA Council Will Meet Tonight

The Granite City PTA Area Council will hold its initial meeting of the 1968-69 school year this evening at Nameoki grade school, starting with "get acquainted" pot luck supper at 6:30.

PTA representatives and principals of 18 elementary and junior high schools have been invited to attend the dinner session, which is to be followed with a talk by School Supt. B. J. Davis, who will speak on "Meeting the Challenge of Change," the 1968-69 theme of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Twila McKinney, council president, said Mrs. Thomas Holland of Wood River, District 29 director, also will be guest speaker at tonight's program and a special segment is to be presented by the Illinois Heart Association.

All new PTA unit officers, teachers and principals are urged to attend the 6:30 p.m. supper, or the general meeting, set for 7:30 p.m. in the Nameoki auditorium.

The council official reported that two sessions remain in the four-part basic PTA training course which is being taught on four consecutive Wednesday evenings at Frohardt school.

PTA newcomers may still attend the final two classes, scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 2, and Oct. 9.

At this evening's meeting, plans will be announced for the annual fall conference of District 29, ICPT, which will take place Thursday, Oct. 10, at Grafton. Sessions will be conducted at 4:30 and 7 p.m. with a dinner arranged for 7:30 p.m. in the Grafton school, Mrs. McKinney advised.

Carless Driving Charge

Cleodis Williams, 21, East St. Louis, was arrested by Venice police at 2:45 p.m. yesterday on a charge of carless driving. Williams, who was arrested at Market and Weaver streets, posted his driver's license as bond pending a magistrate hearing Oct. 9.

City Petitioned for One-Way Traffic on Adams Street

A petition bearing signatures of 68 households in the 2400, 2500 and 2600 blocks of Adams street requesting a one-way designation was accepted Monday night by Granite City council members, who called for preparation of an ordinance.

After hearing complaints from James Harris, 2609 Adams, spokesman for a delegation, the council agreed the heavy traffic and speeding problems would be studied in the two-week period before the next council session on Oct. 7.

Third Ward Aldermen Boyd and Poulos plan to conduct a survey in the remaining blocks. General agreement was reached that Adams street should be designated as a southbound thruway. Alderman

GC Master Plan Hearing to be Oct. 16th

A public hearing on the Granite City Long Range Development Plan will be held Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

Agreement on the plan was reached during Monday night's council session, which was visited by William F. Hoelscher, chairman of the City Plan Commission, who said the commissioners would be available then.

Council members are reviewing the 20-year growth and master plan prepared over a period of several years by Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

Hoelscher stressed the sole legal aspect of the city's adoption of the master plan would be to permit the city to exercise building and zoning codes for 12 miles beyond the city limits. "This extends roughly to Interstate 270 and to Route 111," he explained.

4 Participating Agencies

With approval of the plan by the city and other participating agencies, it would be filed with the county planning office. An earlier master plan was never accepted or filed, he noted, adding that changes in the plan can be made at any time in the plan. The plan also is to be approved by the school board and the Granite City Housing Authority.

He pointed out the council also should be studying the new, revised zoning code, also prepared for the city by SIMAPC.

"This will be a law. It's a good ordinance and should solve problems for the city. This is provision, for example, there is provision for location of multi-family dwellings in R-3, two-family resi-

Faculty Appointments Made By SIU Trustees

A short list of personnel appointments has been approved by the Southern Illinois University board of trustees.

P. Roy Brummel, former dean of the School of Education at the University of Connecticut, was named professor of educational administration and foundations, in the College of Education at the Carbonado campus.

Five visiting professors were employed for portions of the academic year. Expected in their fields, they will conduct seminars for graduate students and share their knowledge with the SIU faculty.

A Craig Baird, formerly at the State University of Iowa, will be visiting professor in the School of Fine Arts during the fall, winter and spring quarters.

Harvey W. Huey, formerly at the University of Illinois and more recently a visiting professor at the University of Texas, will serve at SIU during the fall, winter and spring quarters as visiting professor of marketing.

John Napper, a British artist and professor at the St. Martin's School of Art, in London, will serve as visiting professor in the School of Fine Arts during the fall, winter and spring quarters.

Dwight E. Peltoz will join the SIU faculty for the fall and winter quarters as visiting artist in music. He has taught in San Francisco and in Philadelphia.

Gerald O. Windham will spend a year at SIU as visiting professor in the Center for Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections. Formerly a professor at Mississippi State University, he has been a visiting lecturer at Njala University, Sierra Leone.

Changes in assignment include John O. Anderson to serve as dean of the International Services Division; Ralph Bedwell as director of the Center for Management Development; Joseph E. Burnside as acting chairman of the department of animal industries; Robert J. Ellis as director of the Business Research Bureau; William J. McKeefery, dean of academic affairs, to serve also as chairman of the department of higher education; and Ralph E. McCoy, director of libraries, to serve also as acting chairman for instructional materials.

Robertson suggested the one-way restriction be limited to the 2500 and 2600 blocks.

In speaking to the council, Harris said traffic flow on the street has increased tremendously since the one-way system was extended to 27th street last year and that in recent months the problems have increased.

"It takes almost five minutes in the morning to back your car out of your driveway," he said.

Poulos expressed concern over the added traffic on Benton street, about Adams street, designated one-way. Benton is one-way northbound from 20th street to 27th street.

Another recommendation was made by Nann, who suggested the street be posted with a 25 mph speed limit.

dential areas, provided the trailer wheels are removed and the unit is placed on a permanent type foundation," Hoelscher explained.

Nann, referring to action by the council last week in requesting a modification of the city's trailer control law to permit placement of trailers with approval of 70% of the residents in a 300-foot radius, said the council does not want to open the town to trailers, but that consent would hinge on neighborhood approval and the removal of trailer wheels and sewer connections.

Hoelscher said any change in the present law in advance of adoption of the proposed new zoning code would cause confusion. He suggested the aldermen restudy the proposal before taking any action on changes recommended last week.

"Need Leeway"

"We need a little leeway on trailers," Nann replied. Hoelscher also brought up urban renewal and said he would aid in arranging a meeting with the council committee of Aldermen Dallas and McElrath and the Board of Poulos of the Third Ward and a committee of downtown residents.

No meeting date was set. In a brief discussion, council members again called for re-examining the program to include more of the central downtown area and for specific details.

Hoelscher said he realized the need for added planning and application for planning funds. Once federal urban renewal money is made available, he explained, the negotiations for the property needed can begin. There also are provisions for the cost of families to relocate," he added.

The initial urban renewal program, introduced a year ago, called for planning redevelopment of a four-block area in the vicinity of St. Elizabeth Hospital and fringing on the downtown area in the 1900 and 2000 blocks of Grand avenue.

North-South Roadway

In discussing other issues with the council, Hoelscher noted that earlier in the meeting, the council referred to the Plan Commission, a request by Harry Ross for rezoning a 16-acre tract bounded by Nameoki road, Pontoon road, the railroad tracks to the west and Tri Mor Bowl to the south for development of a shopping center.

He pointed out the city would have available on the Ross plan a 50-foot easement along the east side of the railroad tracks for the long talked-about north-south thoroughfare from Pontoon road to either 25th street or 22nd street. Hoelscher added that the Reinhardt Agency, which is developing Wilson Park Estates immediately west of Youngs Colonial subdivision also has set aside a 50-foot easement for the roadway.

"The Plan Commission is doing what it can to help in the development of the roadway, as recommended by Alderman Robertson, but the problem is the ownership of a large section of the proposed right-of-way by the railroads," the Plan Commission chairman said.

Parked Car Damaged

A parked car owned by J. W. Turner, 109 Abbott street, Venice, was damaged in the rear at 10:20 p.m. yesterday when struck by a car driven by Shirley L. Parris, 114 Abbott street. Police reported the Parris car was turning around and backed into the Turner auto.

MORE ABOUT Aldermen

petitions. "We should check for duplications and to see if everyone on the petitions is a bona-fide resident," Nann said. Boyd added, "We should examine them thoroughly and determine if everyone on them is registered to vote in November."

Boyd suggested the attorney could confer with persons who notarized the petitions to make certain the scratch-out and change in statute numbers on the 43 sheets had been made before the petitions had been signed.

Boyd then called for a referral of the petitions to the city attorney to answer the questions.

But, the debate continued. "Frankly," Alderman Whitmer commented, "I'd like to see it go on the ballot. The people will beat it to death."

Bartosiak asked if the city has the right to set the date for the election or if it would be up to the county clerk.

It was then that Fry entered the discussion.

"Who is to determine the validity of the petitions? — The council or the clerk?" he asked.

Possible Challenges

Atty. Allen replied that any citizen who is opposed to the proposal could present the challenge.

Fry chided the council members on their reluctance to accept the petitions and virtual refusal to call for an election, and wanted to know the reason for "cattishness" since everyone was predicting the proposal would be defeated.

The shoving-scuffle then ensued.

Nann fired a question at Fry. "What does he want? Does he want seven aldermen or 14 aldermen? (Fry has a petition against the council pending to call for restricting the city with seven wards instead of the present eight.)"

Nann added that the salary paid to aldermen doesn't begin to cover the costs resulting from the office. "The money you get doesn't pay the price of the wedding gifts and the tickets you buy."

At this point, Whitmer called for a vote on referring the matter to the attorney.

However, a few more remarks were forthcoming before the motion was approved.

Bartosiak said in reply to Fry that he had not heard any alderman say they did not want an election. "I doubt if the signers know of any troubles on the council. I don't see names of any who attend council sessions."

"I believe I could go out tomorrow and ask the same people to sign petitions not to have an election and they would sign."

Adding his remarks, Bartosiak said he did not feel the people wanted a city government with the one in East St. Louis. The people have a right to petition for a change of government.

"After the attorney checks it, and if the petition is found proper, proceed with the election. It's going to be whipped in my ward."

Miss Vera Sabo Becomes Bride of Carl L. Rapp

The wedding of Miss Vera Sabo, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth York, 1722 Fourth street, Madison, and Carl L. Rapp, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle D. Rapp of Belleville, took place Monday evening at First Baptist Church in Madison.

The Rev. Richard Dillender officiated at the 7:30 service and a reception followed in the church service room.

Arrangements of white gladioli and mums decorated the sanctuary and lighted candles in seven-branched candelabra illuminated the scene. Bows marked the pews down the white carpeted aisle and the couple knelt during the ceremony on a brass prie dieu.

A gown of pure white de-lustered satin and lace was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. It was designed with a high rise bodice of Chantilly lace, a scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves. Pearls encircled the bodice and motifs of lace were placed on the long "A" line skirt which had a double scalloped lace hemline. A detachable train, trimmed with more of the lace, fell from the waist.

Forward petals held in place the bride's tiered veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses and variegated ivy with a rose corsage in the center.

A maid of honor, Miss Patricia Pazio, and two brides-

Four Resurfacing Projects OK'd By GC Council

Resurfacing of sections of four concrete streets under the special improvement section of the city's budget was approved Monday night by Granite City council members with award of a $40,280 contract to Macclair Asphalt Co., East St. Louis.

A two-inch layer of asphalt is to be applied to the 2400 and 2500 blocks of Grand avenue, the 2100 block of Benton street, on 18th street from Cleveland blvd. west to the railroad tracks and on Washington avenue from 24th to 27th street.

Other bids were $42,660 by Reese Construction Co., East St. Louis; $44,082 by A. H. Seebold Co., and $44,311 by Holland Asphalt Co., both of Granite City.

Alderman Johnson, who submitted the bid, noted it was $290 over the estimate, but that the 23,700 square yards of asphalt also was an estimate.

Idaho Ave. Curb

In another contract award, G. H. Sternberg Co., on a bid of $10,398, is to install curbs and gutters along Idaho avenue from Benton street to St. Paul avenue.

A. H. Seebold bid $10,753.

The work is to be carried out after storm sewers are completed, and the engineering firm of Research Planning & Design Associates gives the order to proceed.

Mayor Partney noted the city has no funds budgeted for a consulting engineer, and that R&P D is the city's motor fuel tax project engineer.

Permission was given Illinois Power Co. for eight excavations on 23rd street between Washington and Madison avenues to start Oct. 20 for replacement of a 10-inch gas main.

A request by the First Assembly of God Church for a 40-foot driveway to a parking lot at 2330 Grand avenue was approved.

City Comptroller Robert Stevens was instructed to seek bids for new fire hose, requested by the fire department.

Sales Projects OK'd

Permission was given two local organizations for fund-raising projects—the Granite City Optimist Club for use of a section of the city-owned block at 2300 Madison avenue for its annual sale of Christmas trees in December and to the Candy Strippers Junior Auxiliary of St. Elizabeth Hospital for tag days on Oct. 18 and 19.

The junior auxiliary wants funds for the organization and to present a gift to the hospital. The Optimist Club uses its funds for community and welfare projects.

Committee Studying New City Garage Plans

Plans for a new city garage on a vacant tract on the south side of 25th street east of the railroad tracks were advanced Tuesday during a meeting in the mayor's office.

Revisions were outlined for the 80x130-foot concrete block structure and the revised plans are to be submitted to the city council in the near future. The structure would cost under $200,000 and would be financed over a period of years. The city also plans to sell its present city garage at 19th and Benton streets.

Present for Tuesday's meeting were Mayor Partney, Alderman Nott and Police and Street Supt. Warfield and Henry Lueders and James Henderson of the Lueders Agency.

Port Report Traces Chemical Storage, Shipping Expansion

The Tri-City Regional Port District has assets of $775,147 and yearly operations exceeding $15,000, the latest annual report for the year ending June 30, 1968, disclosed this week.

Appropriations by the state since 1960 have totaled $683,270, with $384,433 expended, $10,368 returned to the state and $66,450 available for expenditure in 1968-69.

The report relates that the General Assembly created the port district in mid-1959 at the request of Madison county citizens who felt that this area had a potential for industrial and commercial development which was not being utilized.

After two years, a warrant was established the rights and powers of the district, it entered into a 50-year lease with the state of Illinois for land along the Chain of Rocks Canal.

$167,797 Bid to County

Under federal reclamation acts, Madison county receives 75% of all land rent paid to the U. S. during the lease period.

Through June 30, the district paid the federal government $223,730, of which $167,797 has been forwarded to the county treasury. The land previously produced no taxes.

Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab of Granite City has been retained for local engineering, including supervision of the overall development plans and inspection of all construction, the report notes.

The first bond issue was accomplished in 1964, covering initial port development totaling $750,000. Rail facilities connecting the port area with the main line of the Illinois Terminal Railroad were installed, along with loading and storage facilities for the handling of liquids.

The $237,784 truckage cost is being retired at an annual rate based on per-car revenue, with the port district owning the rail facilities and ITR providing service through an operating lease.

Marine Service Leases

National Marine Service, Inc., New York, leases from the district:

1. A combination heating plant, pump barge and pumping terminal for the handling, heating and transfer of cargo from and to barges, trucks and rail cars.

2. Rail tracks, tank car loading facilities and truck loading facilities to permit the loading and unloading of cargo to and from barges or from storage.

3. A two-million-gallon liquid storage tank and associated pipelines for agricultural chemicals; subleased to Allied Chemical Co. of New York, with National Marine Service handling the receiving and distribution of cargo.

4. A 300,000-gallon liquid caustic tank with pumps and piping; subleased to Dow Chemical Co. with operation handled by National Marine Service.

5. A $20,000 food oil line with associated loading facilities, completed in October 1965, able to handle multiple loading of rail cars and trucks to and from barges.

6. A million-gallon liquid storage tank with pipelines for agricultural chemicals, financed by National Marine Service private capital, completed in 1968; subleased to All-CIO, an industrial assembly of all the AFL-CIO labor councils in the region, formed to support both RIDC and act as labor's unified voice in RIDC.

RIDC draws its support from business labor, local government and educational institutions throughout the region.

until other towboats can pick them up for outbound movement.

Economy Boat Charges the owner or lessee of the barge a daily storage rate that reflects a return to the port district.

The port district board has as its chairman Harold R. Fischer, First Granite City National Bank board chairman, and as its treasurer John N. Belicoff, Madison city clerk.

Other members are Henry D. Karandjeff, board chairman of the Trust & Savings Bank and American National Bank; Joseph A. Grant, past vice-president of the International Boilermakers Union; and William L. Harris, president of the Wagner Seven-Up Bottling Co.; and Hillmer, Laclede Steel Co. administrative assistant.

Carl A. Ranft is general manager and secretary; Randall Robertson, port attorney; and Mrs. Velda Taylor, office manager.

Revenue in 1967-68 totaled $125,632, including $78,289 in appropriated funds, $3485 interest from U. S. Treasury bills and $43,537 rentals ($32,657 National Marine rental, $555 Illinois Terminal, $4200 National Marine through-put and $6445 Wood River harbor service).

Expenses totaled $115,462 in the past year.

They consisted of $35,750 bond interest, $31,699 salaries, $55,075 contractual land rent, $7068 other contractual costs, $3258 travel, $260 land rental, $1163 miscellaneous costs, $603 commodities, $157 extra help, $165 printing, $16 postage and $288 contingencies.

Dr. Morris to Head RIDC Member Drive

Dr. Delyte W. Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, will serve as the general chairman for the first Regional Industrial Development Corporation membership campaign which will start Nov. 18, Howard L. Young, chairman of the board announced today.

"We are extremely proud that Dr. Morris, a distinguished educator, aggressive community leader and concerned regional citizen, is taking time from his very busy schedule to lead this most important effort," Young said.

In accepting the task, Dr. Morris commented: "RIDC has been charged with the task of helping to expand the industrial base of our bi-state metropolitan region. Although only three years old, they have already shown an amazing degree of success, especially when you consider the enormity of the effort. Because that success has placed growing demands on RIDC's limited staff, it must of necessity grow. As a non-profit organization, an increased budget needed to meet increased demands can only come from an expanded membership base."

The fall campaign will be directed primarily at business. Organized Labor presently has a fund raising campaign under way in local unions throughout the bi-state area. That effort is sponsored by the Regional Labor Council Assembly, AFL-CIO, an informal assembly of all the AFL-CIO labor councils in the region, formed to support both RIDC and act as labor's unified voice in RIDC.

RIDC draws its support from business labor, local government and educational institutions throughout the region.

Intervene in 2nd Suit; Dedicate Grigsby Oct. 27

The Granite City school board decided to intervene last night in the Nemecki town board suit against Granite City annexation of Maryville grade school. It intervened previously in a similar suit against annexation of Grigsby junior high school.

The board set public dedication of Grigsby junior high for 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27. Paul A. Grigsby, former superintendent of schools here, will attend the program and will be honored at a luncheon with board members.

It was decided to continue Terminal Railroad Association service for a spur track to the former St. Louis Lumber Co., which the school district has purchased as an office and warehouse.

It was also decided to assign a custodian and a chauffeur to the school property, with both men agreeing to some overlapping of their duties. Any further expansion of the staff there is to be planned in consultation with the two affected unions, Building Service Employees Local 89 and Teamsters Local 525.

Roy Aach of Aach and Associates, engineers, was named to help plan changes in mechanical systems at the new office-warehouse. Ducts will be altered to channel heating and air-conditioning into new zones.

Randall Engineering of Belleville was named to survey the Grigsby school site and install permanent corner posts to mark the boundaries.

The board accepted for $4100 an offer by the former Ranft Bottling Co. to sell a two-year-old 2500-gallon-capacity truck for use at the warehouse.

A $3860 bid from Markely Plumbing & Heating was accepted for installing a sub-surface drainage system to prevent damage to Parkway grade school.

Boosters of the Fighting Wars were authorized to install a pressbox at the GCHS athletic stadium as a memorial to servicemen.

With a stadium restroom structure shipped the week before, the $8300 low bid for installation work was accepted from Leo Wolf. Materials cost $799, for a $17,201 total. It is expected to be ready for the second football game of the season Oct. 4.

MORE ABOUT Madison Board

even with the reduction the difference between the two sides would still provide the union with a starting salary of $796 per month (annual total divided by nine), the amount it sought with the re-opening of negotiations.

Bargain for Money
At one point of the negotiations Carr proposed that the two sides settle on a total amount and that the union have the right to determine its own salary schedule and determine the amount of the "bundle" to be used for fringe benefits.

"Let's forget about the salary schedule; forget about fringe costs. Let's bargain in for money," he suggested.

The board, which earlier had given its original starting offer of $44 per month increase by $17 per month, returned from a caucus with another increase of $5.58 per month, which would cost the district an additional $6000 plus one day of personal leave at a cost of $3800.

The additional $6000 would have to be taken from a $13,000 building figure budgeted for needed repairs of new schools and for the purchase of lockers, an item which the board previously refused to touch, Gitchell explained.

Demand Cash Balance
Carr continued to insist that the board has budgeted an end-of-the-year cash balance in the educational fund of $118,000, which could be used for salaries and would be more than enough to meet the union demands.

The board, however, maintained that the money is made available to pay teachers' salaries for the months of July and August, and could be used for other purposes. Teachers have been receiving two checks a month for 12 months, but the board strongly indicated that the monthly salary fund would be paid in June to eliminate any such balance.

During a step-by-step review of the budget, Carr proposed using $36,500 of the cash balance for salaries.

After questioning numerous items in the budget and suggesting changes, Carr "found" $91,000 which he said could be used for salaries.

Assess New Tax
He proposed that the district assess a new five cent tax rate authorized to finance the state fire safety code to bring school buildings up to state standards, which would provide $15,000, the $13,000 for building repairs, and $4000 in additional building taxes which could be derived with a 100% tax collection.

The school administration has been estimating its income on a 90% collection of tax extension set by the county clerk, and it was determined that last year's rate of collection was higher.

Agree to Borrow
Also included in his figures was an additional state aid grant of $6000, another $6000 which the board agreed to borrow and lesser amounts from clerical, administrative and election budgets.

The union attorney also insisted that if necessary the board, with a borrowing power of about $480,000, could borrow $100,000 a year for four years before it reached the crisis faced this year by the East St. Louis school district.

Carr called this "a year of crisis" for Madison. In strengthening his argument, he said the board may save up to $21,000 in salaries from teacher turnover, that state is expected to double and other funds now paid to teacher aids and clerical aids could be used. He also turned as "inequitable" pay increases given to clerks.

$18,000 Available
Gitchell and the board refused to bargain on the teachers' salary balance, possible increased state aid, collection of new taxes and use of building funds and maintained that it had only $18,000 available, which would provide for part of the additional raises.

During occasional emotional outbursts before two groups of outsiders, including 10 parents and taxpayers admitted to the meeting, Carr charged that the board was putting money ahead of the children and was more responsive to the industrial taxpayers than to the people who live in the district.

He said a telegram was sent to Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, calling attention to a lack of teachers and asking that the schools be closed as the school code was not being followed.

He said that on Wednesday union representatives counted the following numbers of regular and teachers (full staff in parentheses) entering the schools:

High school (35), 23 regulars and three substitutes; junior high school (8), eight regulars; Louis Baer school (13), six regulars and one substitute; Harris (20), 11 regulars and four substitutes; Dunbar (20), none; and Blair (13), none.

Hunger Keynote Of Bargaining
Hunger became the keynote of the negotiations session between the Madison board of education and the Madison Federation of Teachers last night at the city hall.

Some observers, who had been on hand since 2:30 p.m. without a lunch break, sent out for some sandwiches and refreshments at about 9 p.m.

When the sandwiches arrived, the teachers committee was going into a food caucus and one of the teachers snatched the bag.

Meanwhile the parents determined what had happened to their food, but it was too late. The bag was empty.

Proceedings 'Drive'
During an argument over the status of the teachers salary balance, Avery Schermer, representing taxpayers, termed the proceedings "drive," which led to an outburst by Carr against the spokesman. It later was determined that Carr and Schermer had worked together previously on a human relations board.

The negotiations were called after Supr. Dragich found himself facing more than 100 parents, accompanied by Carr at the high school Tuesday evening.

Dragich said he stood, raised his hands and "surrendered," remarking, "go ahead, shoot." At that point a man arose and a bottle fell from his pocket, making a startling crashing noise.

The administration and the union continued to remain at odds over the number of teachers staffing the buildings and over the qualifications of the teachers on hand.

Union Claims
John Roark, director of organization for the Illinois Federation of Teachers at Springfield, who attended the negotiations, claimed earlier that there were no teachers at Dunbar and Blair schools and that they were closed.

He said a telegram was sent to Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, calling attention to a lack of teachers and asking that the schools be closed as the school code was not being followed.

He said that on Wednesday union representatives counted the following numbers of regular and teachers (full staff in parentheses) entering the schools:

High school (35), 23 regulars and three substitutes; junior high school (8), eight regulars; Louis Baer school (13), six regulars and one substitute; Harris (20), 11 regulars and four substitutes; Dunbar (20), none; and Blair (13), none.

Administration Figures
The administration office claimed the following staff yesterday:

High school (31), 23 regulars and five substitutes; junior high school (8), 9 regulars; Louis Baer (12), eight regulars and four substitutes; Harris (17), 13 regulars and four substitutes; Dunbar, one principal, one substitute and an average of 50 pupils; and Blair, one principal, five students, closed.

On Monday and Tuesday William Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools, and for of the State Department of Public Instruction, checked the credentials at the administration office and found all of the teachers to be fully qualified.

Trimpe recommended to the state superintendent that the state withhold action in the dispute pending a decision on an injunction heard today in Madison county circuit court.

Tense Situation
Roark stated that the situation at the high school "creates a tense situation." He counted 300 marked patrol cars and 11 police officers and a police dog on the high school parking lot, along with Mayor Stephen Maera. Police were on hand again this morning in efforts to forestall any difficulty.

One of the pickets attempted to break into the school, but was arrested by Police Chief Emmet P. Roark and charged with disorderly conduct and disobeying an officer.

He is Robert A. Miller, 44, of University City, Mo., educational director of Teamsters Local 688 of St. Louis. He was booked at Madison police headquarters at 8:05 a.m. and released at 9:45 a.m. on $50 cash bail posted by Carr pending a hearing next Wednesday.

Driveaway Blocked
Paris said he went to the high school at about 7:30 a.m. and found concrete blocks placed across the driveway and bottles broken in the drive. He and other police officers moved the blocks and swept up the glass.

He said Miller then stepped in front of the next auto trying to enter. He refused to budge on Paris's order, and Paris pushed Miller aside to permit the car to pass.

The chief said he warned Miller if he did that again he would be arrested. Miller stepped in front of another car and Paris placed him under arrest.

Roark called it "direct intimidation" by the police chief who ran from his car and shoved Miller.

The union attorney attempted to obtain a warrant charging Paris with assault and battery, but this was denied by State's Atty. Lawrence Hartman who held that Paris's action did not constitute assault and battery.

NLRB Charges in Strike at Dow

Union leaders of striking steelworkers at the Madison plant of Dow Chemical Co. filed charges of unfair labor practices with the National Labor Relations Board yesterday afternoon, charging the company with "illegal" demands that the union change the membership of its bargaining committee.

George Becker, international representative of United Steelworkers of America, said the filing of the NLRB proceedings "converts the situation at Dow into an unfair labor practices strike."

Becker said the charges were filed after a scheduled negotiating session failed to materialize in the U. S. Mediation offices at St. Louis yesterday morning due to demands by the company that certain personnel of the union bargaining committee be changed.

Employees Discharged
The charges also are based on the discharge Monday of six steelworker employees, one of whom is a member of the bargaining committee, Becker said.

The NLRB complaint demands reinstatement of the six discharged employees, that the company be required to resume negotiations.

A company spokesman said yesterday's negotiating meeting was called off after the company had notified U. S. Mediators that it needed a postponement to clarify legal points in a procedural matter.

The spokesman said shortly before noon today that "we have now received that legal advice and are ready to negotiate as soon as the mediator can arrange a bargaining session."

ITR Agent, Six
Copper Thieves
In Gun Battle

A gun battle early this morning between an Illinois Terminal Railroad agent and six men whom the agent surprised in the yard, discovered copper bars from a freight car near the Terminal's McKinley yards is believed to have resulted in the wounding of one or more of the thieves, sheriff's deputies reported today.

The shooting occurred shortly after midnight when Agent Darrell Lane, who had been on a six men unloading the copper bars from a freight car a half mile west of the McKinley yards at Eagle Park Acres.

Lane told deputies he fired three rounds of buckshot directly at the group of men. He said the men returned his fire as they ran along the row of freight cars and that repeated shots from one of the men sounded like an automatic weapon.

The agent said he trailed the thieves to a point near Allen and Watson streets in Eagle Park Acres where he saw them getting into a truck and autos. Lane said the men apparently were putting a wounded man in one of the cars.

He told deputies the men saw him as he was approaching the area and fired three more shots at him as they got in the vehicles and drove away.

Lane called sheriff's deputies who joined him in inspecting the area around the freight car from which the copper bars were being removed. Deputies said the subsequent investigation indicated the copper bars had been removed from the freight car.

we care

we never
"run out"
on a sale!

We never advertise a special sale item unless we have an ample supply. Once in a great while, the special is more popular than we imagined. So occasionally, we do run out of the item.

But we never "run out" on a sale.

If the item is sold out, just ask the manager for a "RAIN CHECK".

An A&P Rain Check is a certificate that entitles you to buy the item at the same special price, the following week.

We think that's the fair thing to do. We think that shows "WE CARE".

Not every store can care that much. A&P can... and does.

Shouldn't A&P be your store?

Registration Opens In SIBA Competition

Registration is now open and will continue through the Industry Advancement Foundation of the Southern Illinois Builders Association and open to all high school sophomores, juniors and seniors in a 20-county area.

This year's assignment will be the design and construction of a scale model of a sports arena which is presently proposed for Southern Illinois University - Southwestern campus. Design will be limited only by the individual student's imagination.

Registration may be made with the industrial arts teacher or the principal at high schools in the area. Models, which must be designed and constructed entirely by the individual student, must be delivered to SIU-SW on Feb. 8 next year, and will be displayed through Feb. 22 at the University Center.

Announcement of award winners will be made Feb. 14 and presentations will be made Feb. 22. Thirty scholarship awards totaling $1700 will be made to competition winners. First prize, the Gold Medal award, is a $500 scholarship to the college, university or technical school of the winner's choice.

Southern Illinois University will offer a sequence of courses in African history beginning in the fall of 1969.

Area Students Named To SIU-SW Deans List

Nineteen area students are among 238 at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus who have qualified for the dean's list for the summer quarter, an increase of 66 over the summer quarter of 1967.

Frederick E. Noth of Granite City made straight A's. To qualify, a student must maintain a grade-point average of 4.5 or better.

Other Granite City students on the list are Thomas E. Bickhaus, Alta M. Bollinger, Betty J. Bolt, John E. Brooks, Joyce E. Clement, Kathryn A. Connell, Lynn J. Craddock, Kevin D. DeKuntz, John F. Kelahan, Carole A. Lanter, Carolyn A. Niebrugge, Mary C. Parchment, Henry W. Reimers, D. P. Stamboljiev, Ralph E. Tharp Jr. and Carla L. Voyles. The other is Susan M. Manco of Madison.

Teachers of English To Meet at Urbana

John C. Maxwell, Upper Midwest Regional Educational Laboratory, Minneapolis, Minn., will give the keynote address, "Bubble, Bubble, Toil and Trouble," at the annual conference of the Illinois Association of Teachers of English Oct. 11-12 at the University of Illinois, Urbana.

Dr. Ruth Strickland, professor of elementary education, Indiana University, will give the banquet address, "Today's English and Children's Needs." Dr. Robert Pooley, director, Wisconsin English Study, will speak at the concluding luncheon on "From Curriculum to Classroom-What Next?" Both are former NATE presidents. Theme of the conference is "Visible Products of the 'New English'."

SIU Admission Policies Revised

Revision of Southern Illinois University admission policies to conform with State Board of Higher Education wishes was approved last week by the SIU board of trustees. The new regulations become effective with the summer quarter, 1969. The board met at Carbondale.

Illinois high school graduates ranking in the upper half of their graduating classes may be admitted in any quarter of the school year. Those in the lower half may be admitted for the summer quarter and may continue as students provided they carry at least eight quarter hours of work and make a "C" average during the summer term.

Out-of-state high school graduates who rank in the upper 40% of their classes are eligible to enter the university in any quarter. Those in the upper 50% but not in the upper 40% may enter in the summer quarter and qualify to continue as regular students by taking at least eight quarter hours and earning a "C" average.

Transfer students from four-year colleges are admissible in any quarter provided they have a "C" grade average at the school of last attendance. Those who were in good standing but did not have a "C" average will be considered for admission on probation for the summer, winter or spring quarters. Those not in good academic standing must have a lapse in schooling of at least two quarters before seeking admission.

Graduates of two-year baccalaureate-type colleges, regardless of grade average, may enter SIU in any quarter provided they have not taken college-level work at any other institution since their graduation. In other respects, students transferring from two-year colleges are subject to the same conditions as those from senior colleges.

Either class standing in high school or university entrance examination (ACT) test scores may be used to support requests for admission.

The Higher Education Board's entrance requirements have been described as part of a phased program to stabilize enrollment at Illinois senior colleges and universities.

Sports Arena Design, Modeling Contest Opens

The Industry Advancement Foundation of the Southern Illinois Builders Association is inviting all high school sophomores, juniors and seniors from a 20-county area in Southern Illinois to enter the third annual model building competition.

This year's assignment is to design and construct a scale model of a sports arena which is proposed for Southern Illinois University - Southwestern campus.

The great interest being shown in college sports is creating a new challenge for architects and builders to develop and construct buildings equipped to handle a multitude of sports activities as well as seat thousands of cheering spectators. Design is limited only by the individual student's imagination.

The Industry Advancement Foundation offers 30 scholarship awards totaling $1700 to the competition winners. First prize, the Gold Medal award, is a $500 scholarship to the college, university or technical school of the winner's choice.

The foundation seeks, through public and private educational projects, to enhance the skills and training of those already engaged in the various skills of the building trades as well as those preparing for a career in the construction industry.

The contest is made possible through contributions to the

Dialogue Stressed at SIU-SW Orientation

New students at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus Monday heard Chancellor John S. Rendleman invite them to disagree with ideas and policies of the university if they wished.

He stipulated "within legitimate bounds" as he told them "if you wish to protest, please do so, because dialogue is most important to the university."

The chancellor told more than 1000 new students they will contribute heavily to the university and will change and be changed by their associations here.

He offered SIU-SW to the students as a place "where we can help you learn how to think, not what to think."

Rendleman was the opening speaker in the two days of new student orientation. Superclassmen at the university, known as orientation leaders, worked with small groups of students getting them acquainted with SIU-SW.

Classes began at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Organizational Pow-Wow Set for Y-Indian Guides

An organizational "pow-wow" for fathers wishing to join the "Y-Indian Guides" father and son program will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 30 in the Tri-City Area YMCA, according to Marvin E. VanMetre, "Y" adult program director. The pow-wow will include an explanation of tribe activity and formation as well as exhibits of tribes equipment, the YMCA official said. Participation in the Indian Guides program is open to boys now attending first and second grades. VanMetre reported that Y-Indian Guides incorporate more than 225,000 large and small braves from coast-to-coast. He said, "the program's basic purpose is to multiply the number of activities that fathers and sons can enjoy together." Over 100 fathers and sons were active in local tribes last year. Tribes of six to eight "couples" meet in rotation at homes twice monthly, the director explained, adding that tribal sessions are kept brief and simple with major emphasis on "just doing things together." Occasional field trips are taken by the tribes to varied points of interest, and weekend encampments also play a popular part in the group activity, VanMetre said.

Since there are no rigid tests or achievements for boys to accomplish, each tribe develops its own program within a framework found to be most beneficial from experience dating back to 1925 when the program was launched by the St. Louis YMCA, the director commented.

He added, "The Y-Indian Guide program is geared for the busy but thinking father who desires to spend more time with his son."

Tri-City Post Listed In Development Ads

The Tri-City Regional Post district is listed among Illinois waterway facilities for the handling of water shipments in an advertisement published in the Traffic World and the New York Journal by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development. The advertisement places Granite City on the map.

In a letter to Carl Ranft, manager of the port district here, John F. Hynes, manager of the Seaport Development division of the state department said the advertisement was placed as part of the Illinois program for seaport development for the Illinois ports.

Funds Sought for Euthanasia Chamber

The Granite City Animal Shelter Board is seeking financial support from the public for purchase of an euthanasia chamber for the animal shelter building to provide the city humane officer with a humane method of disposing of sick animals.

Mrs. Gladys Chapman, a member of the board, noted the chamber would cost about $200, and the city has budgeted only $500 toward the purchase. "We have a $500 contribution from my son, Morris (local lawyer Morris Chapman), and a few small donations, but the board would like public support for this project," Mrs. Chapman said.

The city council Monday night authorized the Animal Shelter Board to use the city's budgeted $500.

Chevrolet for '69 Goes On Display at Mathews

The widest choice of engines V-8 engine in its class," Mathews advised. "It is a 327 cubic inch V-8, increased from a base 307 engine in 1968." Chevrolet also introduced in 1969, a new Turbo Hydra-Matic three-speed automatic transmission specially designed for six cylinder engines and V-8 up through 350 cubic inches and a new heavy duty fully synchronized manual transmission. Safety and security advances range from an improved energy absorbing steering column, contoured windshield headers and front seat head restraints to an anti-theft ignition, steering and transmission lock.

Other exclusive Chevrolet features are computer-selected springs for improved ride, jet-stream headlight washers for better illumination in bad weather, wider wheels to improve vehicle handling and a "liquid tire chain" system to increase rear tire traction on icy streets.

Census Bureau to Get Consumer Buying Data

Area households will be included in a nationwide survey of plans for consumer buying and home improvement to be conducted by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, according to Theodore F. Olson, director of the bureau's regional office in Chicago.

Bureau representatives will visit a sample of households in this area during the first week of October to ask questions about expected purchases of new and used cars, new homes, household durables, and plans for home alterations and repairs. They will also obtain information about recent expenditures for all these items.

The survey is conducted quarterly and is an important guide to trends in consumer spending. Since 1920, the rate of growth in consumer investment has been more than double that of business investment. The annual investment by consumers in durable goods and houses is now far larger than business investment in new plant and equipment.

All answers given to these interviews by families and households are confidential and are protected by federal law. Representing the bureau in this area will be: Mrs. Mary Lou Gallagher of 515 Roanoke drive, Edwardsville, Ill.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other '69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V-8 in its field? Some people think so. Our competitors.

Camaro. Who needs to say "announcing" or "new".
The Hugger.
And just look how it all hangs together. No gingerbread anywhere.
We've improved the interior, too. Quieter ride. Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better.
The power range is very impressive.

Standard V-8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires. Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice: Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough.
Maybe it will help.
Putting you first, keeps us first.

Illinois Being Promoted As 'Tall State' in Nation

Illinois is a top-ranking state in the union, the Department of Business and Economic Development is pointing out as the state celebrates "150 years of the good life."

In a special sesquicentennial promotion, Illinois is being nicknamed "The Tall State" because of its 54,000,000 people living within a 500-mile radius with a total income of $123 billion.

Special mention is made of the 18,914 manufacturing firms and 183,000 non-manufacturing business firms in the state, along with the 94,000 potential industrial customers and 78 major markets.

"Illinois has over 130,000 farms averaging 228 acres each, supporting more than 40 different crops. Its farms are valued at $12 billion."

"Illinois has 122 institutions of higher education, and only three states have more colleges and universities. More students attend college in Illinois than in the United Kingdom, Sweden, Norway and Denmark combined.

"Illinois' average unemployment compensation rate is the lowest in the nation and in 1967 was the lowest in Illinois history."

Many New Goals of Safety Achieved in '69 Pontiacs

Models of 1969 Pontiacs with complete new styling and latest engineering innovations went on sale today at Hundley Pontiac Co., 1801 Madison avenue.

Styling highlights include a new split bumper look to complement Pontiac's traditional split grille, new roof lines and the removal of vent windows from all Catalinas, Executive and Bonneville models adding picture window visibility. The Bonneville series has been given specific treatment in 1969 and features a separate and distinct grille, a rear bumper with a rubber-like pad and a 428 cubic-inch V-8 engine as standard equipment.

Signaling a major shift in its model line-up, Pontiac includes in the 1969 series the revolutionary, new-generation Grand Prix which embodies the attainment of many new goals in safety. Called the Model J, the Grand Prix has classic proportions with a body that rides on an exclusive 118-inch wheel base. It is available in one body style—a hardtop coupe—and went on sale for the first time today.

The entire line-up of Tempest, Custom S, Le Mans and GTO models presents a new vertical theme front-end appearance, newly designed instrument panels and the absence of vent windows on hardtop coupes and convertibles.

In addition there is a new two-way tailgate for station wagons, an ignition steering gearshift lock, two Ram Air options for GTO customers and the three-speed Turbo Hydramatic has been made available on all models.

The new 1969 Pontiac Firebirds have been given added distinction as a personal sports car with fresh styling for a longer, lower appearance, the availability of the Turbo Hydramatic transmission for all models and other engineering refinements for safety and comfort.

Cong. Price Signs Fair Practice Code

Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) announced this week in Washington that he has signed the Fair Campaign Practices Code for this year's election.

Price said that "because of unparalleled tension and tumult in the electoral process this year, and the divisive issues facing us, candidates must not resort to the squalid tools of innuendo and deceit... they must face the issues squarely and resolutely."

The fair-practice code for candidates was drawn by Fair Campaign Practices Inc., headed by Charles P. Taft of Ohio. Former Presidents Truman and Eisenhower are honorary members. Candidates who sign the code pledge to refrain from slander and abuse, from covert and overt attacks on the loyalty of opponents and from appeals to prejudice.

Park District's Fall Tour Through Ozarks Set Oct. 13

The Granite City park district will sponsor its third annual fall tour through the picturesque Illinois-Missouri area of the eastern Ozark region on Sunday, Oct. 13, Harold Brown, superintendent of parks, announced today.

A maximum of 225 persons will be accommodated on five buses making the one-day excursion, with 163 reservations remaining at the present time, the park official noted. All seats have been sold the two previous years and the number of 45-passenger buses increased by one each year.

This fall, the tour will take excursionists south on U. S. Highway 61 to Ste. Genevieve, Mo., along Route 23 to Jefferson, and Flat River, Mo., where Sunday dinner will be served at Rosens restaurant at midday.

The tourists will travel along

Route 8 to Highway 21 at Potosi, Mo., continuing along 21 to Washington State Park and return to Granite City about 6 p.m. Rest stops will be taken at Ste. Genevieve and Washington State Park, Brown said.

As a convenience to senior citizens residing at the Anchorage and Kirkpatrick Homes, passengers may board buses at both housing projects shortly before 8:30 a.m. Oct. 13, the park official announced.

The vehicles will then move to the Wilson Park ice rink parking area, where the remaining passengers may board between 8:30 and 8:45 a.m.

Cost per person will be $5.25, including round-trip transportation and a smorgasbord meal at noon. The dinner will feature various main dishes, plus dessert and beverage. The price also includes tax and tip, Brown said.

Reservations may be made by calling the Wilson Park office at 877-3059, the park superintendent added.

New Front End Design Is Among '69 Ford Features

Ford's 1969 model lineup of a wide array of cars—including 21 models offered in the Custom, Custom 500, Galaxie '690, XL LTD LDT series—went on sale today at B. E. Hohl, Inc., 1837 Madison avenue.

Highlights of all new models include the longer, lower exterior design, a wider stance for better handling, a roomier interior with new flight-cockpit instrument panel, an energy-absorbing frame and new engines offering economy and top performance, according to B. E. Hohl, operator of the firm.

XL and LTD models feature a unique front end design and there are new "SportsRooftop" models with fastback styling and all hardtop and convertible models have ventless side glass for cleaner lines and better visibility, he said.

A new optional 429 cubic-inch displacement V-8 engine is available with two and four barrel carburetors, developing 320 horsepower in the two barrel version and 360 horsepower in the four-barrel.

New grille designs are a prominent feature on each 1969 Ford. The XL, LTD and LTD Country Squire models have a full-width recessed grille with headlights hidden behind retractable doors. The hood, bumper and center portion of the grille protrude in a V shape, adding distinctive luxury to the XL and LTD front end.

All of the new models are

House Fire Tuesday Blamed Upon Vandals

Damage was estimated at $800 to the building and $250 to the contents of a vacant house at 1839 Benton street, owned by Richard Buecker, 1354 Benton, at 9:10 a.m. Tuesday, firemen reported.

The fire apparently started on a couch in the basement upon which some household items were setting. Smoke filled the house.

Vandals, who had been entering the building recently, may have started it with burning paper. Streaks of lipstick have been found along the walls, and a red sign, "Ha, ha, We're Here Again," was found on one wall, firemen were told.

Firemen also were called about 1 a.m. Tuesday to a concrete block and frame building at East 20th and Russell streets used for a storage area and paragonage for the 20th Street Church of God. It is owned by Granite City Steel Co.

Faulty wiring was the cause, and damage was estimated at $300 to $500 to the contents.

Two Radar Arrests

Speeding charges were filed against Lloyd L. Rice, 11 Grenzer Homes, Madison, and Ronald Francis, 2300 Namecki road, on Monday afternoon as police operated a radar unit along Madison avenue.

An auto owned by Fred Lambert, 2652 Adams street, was struck by a hit-and-run driver who had left the curb at 1413 Twentieth street at 8:20 p.m. Monday.

The $24,500 fund transfer approved in Monday's meeting was not reflected in the report. The resolution authorized transfer of the amount from the sales tax account, which showed an Aug. 31 balance of $123,121.

Trojans Seek First Victory, Host Highland in League Opener Friday

The Madison high school Trojans will open their Western Conference campaign at home Friday as they meet the Highland Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m. at the Madison field.

Madison will be trying to shake a two-game losing streak, a 27-0 loss at O'Fallon in the opener and a 25-0 defeat at Rosary of St. Louis. Hopefully, the home gridiron may help inspire the Trojans to turn the tide and achieve a victory.

The deciding factor may be whether Madison can quit beating itself. In the first game, it was too many penalties, and last Saturday it was a case of not being able to hold onto the football. As the Trojans twisted and turned for extra yardage, they too frequently saw the ball jarred loose from the carrier.

Coach Alvin Vander Haar comments, "I couldn't ask any more from my backs than they have already been doing. They have been running hard, making some good moves and playing according to the game plan that we decide on before the game starts."

"So far, we haven't been doing very much passing, because that just hasn't been our style of ball. But we do have some good boys who give it all they've got, and soon we're going to be breaking into the winning pattern."

Seek Early Touchdown
"Just like I am telling my boys, the reason that many teams play one and two games before opening their conference schedules is to see what they can do in competition and what can be done to correct deficiencies."

"We have seen in the last two weeks that we have a lot of work to do before Friday, but I think that we will be ready. In my opinion, the first team that can score is going to hold a commanding advantage over the other."

"Highland scouted us Saturday and saw our mistakes and all that we have."

"Likewise, we scouted them Friday and saw them beat Vandalia in everything except the score. They lost 7-6, only by having their extra point attempt blocked."

Clinton, James Top Gainfields
Working out of the backfield for the Trojans will be Harold James, who has averaged 4.5 yards per carry this season, Dwayne Shaw, also with a 4.5 average, and Dale Clinton, with an average of six yards a carry. If the Trojans switch their game strategy and decide to go to the air, then Quarterback Jim Scott has been known to pass either to his right end, John Ervin, or to James.

Total passing statistics for the two games this season show that he has completed six of 17 passes for an average of 35% and a gain of 66 yards.

In comparison, Madison has totaled 354 yards on the ground. Madison and Highland go into the game with one common factor, besides the fact that neither team has been credited with a win. Both squads are billed as liking to hit hard and having solid linemen to open up holes for runners to drive through.

MHS Line Heavier
The Trojans have an advantage on the line in that their front foursome, consisting of the two tackles and two guards, weighs 815 pounds. The front four for the Bulldogs weighs 748 pounds.

The Bulldogs have two quarterbacks, Randy Ammann, 158-pound senior, and Steve Diefenbach, 165-pound junior.

Enemy Fullback a Threat
Similar to the Madison offense, the Highland squad is expected to maneuver the ball most effectively on the ground, although the Bulldogs have obtained more passing yardage than the Trojans.

Much attention will be focused on Reinacher, who last season averaged 6.5 yards a carry. He started off this season with an average of five yards against Vandalia.

Last year, the Trojans beat the Bulldogs 20-13 at the Highland field in the opening game of the Midwestern Conference schedule for both teams. The Trojans finished fourth with a 3-2 record (4-2 overall) and Highland seventh and last with a 0-6 mark (1-8 overall).

Probable Defensive Lineups

TROJANS—Ends—Vann Ford (175 Jr.) and Dan Bergiel (185 Jr.). Guards—Steve Lewis (260 Sr.) and Stan Young (250 Jr.). Tackles—Harper and Campbell. Halfbacks—John Ervin (160 Jr.) and Shaw. Linebackers—Jim Scott, Narvaez, Safety—Clinton.

commanding advantage over the other.

"Highland scouted us Saturday and saw our mistakes and all that we have."

"Likewise, we scouted them Friday and saw them beat Vandalia in everything except the score. They lost 7-6, only by having their extra point attempt blocked."

Clinton, James Top Gainfields
Working out of the backfield for the Trojans will be Harold James, who has averaged 4.5 yards per carry this season, Dwayne Shaw, also with a 4.5 average, and Dale Clinton, with an average of six yards a carry. If the Trojans switch their game strategy and decide to go to the air, then Quarterback Jim Scott has been known to pass either to his right end, John Ervin, or to James.

Total passing statistics for the two games this season show that he has completed six of 17 passes for an average of 35% and a gain of 66 yards.

In comparison, Madison has totaled 354 yards on the ground. Madison and Highland go into the game with one common factor, besides the fact that neither team has been credited with a win. Both squads are billed as liking to hit hard and having solid linemen to open up holes for runners to drive through.

MHS Line Heavier
The Trojans have an advantage on the line in that their front foursome, consisting of the two tackles and two guards, weighs 815 pounds. The front four for the Bulldogs weighs 748 pounds.

The Bulldogs have two quarterbacks, Randy Ammann, 158-pound senior, and Steve Diefenbach, 165-pound junior.

Enemy Fullback a Threat
Similar to the Madison offense, the Highland squad is expected to maneuver the ball most effectively on the ground, although the Bulldogs have obtained more passing yardage than the Trojans.

Much attention will be focused on Reinacher, who last season averaged 6.5 yards a carry. He started off this season with an average of five yards against Vandalia.

Last year, the Trojans beat the Bulldogs 20-13 at the Highland field in the opening game of the Midwestern Conference schedule for both teams. The Trojans finished fourth with a 3-2 record (4-2 overall) and Highland seventh and last with a 0-6 mark (1-8 overall).

Conference Race to Open With 46th Renewal of Warrior-Kahok Rivalry

Reminiscent of the Indian warfare in Illinois during the early 1800s, it will be the Warriors vs. the Kahoks tomorrow. The Granite City high school Fighting Warriors will open their Southwestern Conference football schedule on the road Friday as they travel to Collinsville to play an 8 p.m. game against the Kahoks.

It will be the 46th renewal of an evenly-matched gridiron rivalry in which Collinsville has scored 557 points to 516 by Granite City.

In previous 1968 action, the Warriors tied 13-13 against Belleville Athetaff in their opener here and then lost 33-0 last week in a visit to the Belleville East Lancers, now well out of the problems related to establishment of a brand new high school.

Collinsville lost its opener to Cahokia 25-6 and then bounced back last week to trounce Quincy 33-13.

In the view of Frank Pilot, the Kahok coach, "We have both a good game and a bad game, and I am sure that both teams are working extra hard to shake as many mistakes as we can before Friday."

Based on the past, a clear-cut decision can be expected from the league game.

Since the teams clashed for the first time back in 1923, the two Southwestern Conference rivals have only played to a tie once, in 1933, when they battled to a 13-13 score.

Last Victory in 1965
The Warriors have won 20 times and have lost to the Kahoks 24 times. The last time that the Warriors won was in 1965, when they thoroughly pounded the Collinsville team, 40-0.

Last year the two teams opened their conference seasons against one another at the Warrior field, the Kahoks blasting Mitchell AC vs.

GCHS off the field with two touchdowns in the last quarter to win 25-7.

In 1966, Collinsville won 13-12. Granite City, because it suffered its first injuries last week against Belleville East, will have some new faces in the lineup as well as many of the familiar ones.

Roger Belshie, 165-pound senior quarterback, will head up the backfield, utilizing the abilities of running back Jim Greenwald, 190-pound junior fullback, and the running speed of halfback Jim Rollins, 130-pound senior. Either Don Haddix, 140-pound junior or Mike Jones, 148-pound junior, will fill the vacancy left by injured halfback Jim Jones.

On the ends, when Belshie decides to pass, he has Rick Cardwell, 165-pound junior at one end and at the other either Tim Moore, 152-pound junior, or Roger Laws, 166-pound senior.

Monahan to Be Lineman
On defense Jerry Monahan, 149-pound linebacker, is expected to replace Mike Bradford. Eddie Hagnauer, 154-pound junior, will replace John Tyler as halfback.

City Payroll Wins Approval --After Debate

The double pay boost given city sewage treatment plant employees was again criticized Monday night by Alderman Moerlien, who called for separation of their pay from the $46-$52 payroll and then motioned for approval of their pay only to vote against it.

Salaries for the nine workers were approved with only Moerlien and Alderman Johnson opposing the payment. Moerlien explained he was challenging the procedure in which the double pay increases were granted.

The council last month agreed to increase the pay scales at the treatment plant to the street department level and to add the $5 monthly pay increase granted most other city workers.

"Over Budgeted Amount"

Moerlien contended the legality of the increases could be challenged because the amount of the treatment plant payroll would exceed the budgeted amount. "I'll have a written legal opinion on this very shortly. You know, of course, that sewage treatment plant involves a bond issue, and you can't go over the budgeted figures."

Several aldermen spoke out that "funds are being transferred all the time."

Moerlien added that two treatment plant employees were overlooked in the double-raise procedure — the two women clerks in the office in the city hall. "They are treatment plant employees and their pay comes from the treatment plant income."

Parmley replied that the two clerks had been the chief negotiators for the city hall employees and that they were classified as city hall office workers.

2 Workers Overlooked
Posing another payroll question, Moerlien asked if the council also had not overlooked two part-time workers who operate the insect fogging machines during the summer months.

Mayor Partney and Alderman Bartoskiak pointed out the pay increases were only for full-time employees and that no part-time workers was given an increase.

"These men have been on the payroll for years during the summer months, and I can't understand why they were overlooked," Moerlien replied. Council members decided to study the situation and voted 8-to-7 to call for preparation of an ordinance.

CD Staff Gets Hikes

The council approved an ordinance giving pay increases to civil defense personnel. The director's pay is to be $110 a month, up $10; the clerk-typist, $130, up $5, and the custodian, $60, up $10.

Also approved was $1231 sick leave payments to city employees for a two-week period, along with the bill list.

Major items on the bill list included payment of $16,170 to Milam Corp. East for refuse removal during September and $3083 paid to Aetna Life Insurance Co. for employees hospitalization and life insurance for September.

The initial payment of $5731 to Mrs. Velma Rapp in a $17,500 judgment against the city for a sidewalk fall also was on the bill list.

Total amount of the bill list was $35,096.

In addition, the council authorized Robert Jackson, sewage treatment plant superintendent, to attend a state meeting of sewage treatment plant operators at Bloomington on Oct. 16 with an allowance of $42 to cover expenses.

State Air Board Meet Set in Chicago Today

Variance actions and a report on public hearings by the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board are scheduled on the agenda of the board's regular meeting set to begin this morning in Chicago.

The report on public hearing actions was scheduled to involve five Illinois business and manufacturing firms for whom the hearings were held. These include the Wood River Used Auto Parts Co. of Cottage Hills and the Excelsior Foundry of Belleville.

Arrangements for additional hearings to be held in Chicago and Carbondale also are to be discussed. Air contaminant emission reduction programs also are to be considered by the board.

Other items on today's agenda include a verbal report on the Illinois coal study, a comprehensive program and federal grant and legislative budget matters. A verbal report also was to be made on the Air Quality Act of 1967. The board's next meeting is scheduled in Carbondale Nov. 7.

Law Makes It Hard to Change 'Wet' Community to 'Dry' Or the Reverse

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Anyone who attempts to convert a "dry" community in Illinois into a "wet" one—or vice versa—will find that the law offers little to encourage him in his efforts.

The wet-or-dry question must be decided by local option—which means it's up to the voters in the affected community. However, the legal procedures for bringing the issue to vote are formidable.

The law provides that in any city, village or incorporated town of 200,000 population or less, the issue must be decided by the voters, at a unit.

In the one city of more than 200,000 population, Chicago, the voters of any precinct must decide whether that precinct shall prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages or not.

In unincorporated areas, the decision is made by the voters of a township or road district or the portion of a township or road district outside an incorporated area.

In every political unit, the steps required to bring about a vote are the same.

First, a petition must be circulated requesting that the issue be submitted to the voters. The petition must contain the signatures of at least 25% of the legal voters registered in the political unit.

Secondly, the petition must be filed in the office of the clerk of the municipality, city, township or road district.

Rheumatoid Arthritis May Be Caused By An Invasion By Germs

(American Chemical Society)

The weight of scientific opinion is shifting toward the idea that rheumatoid arthritis is caused by invading microorganisms.

But the issue still remains very much in doubt, reports "Chemical and Engineering News" in a three-part feature article on "Arthritis" by Associate Editor Howard J. Sanders.

With the introduction of cortisone in the late 1940s and with proof of its dramatic effectiveness in reducing the inflammation and pain of rheumatoid arthritis, many researchers began to think the disease was caused by hormone abnormalities.

But the necessary supporting evidence has not been obtained, and the theory that the primary cause is a bacterium, virus, or other pathogenic agent now has the largest following.

Strongly supporting the germ theory is the fact that the disease has symptoms similar to those of infectious disorders—inflammation, low-grade fever, lack of appetite, weight loss, a rapid sedimentation rate of red blood cells, and a high count of white blood cells.

This evidence is strictly circumstantial, however, since no one has conclusively connected the disease with a specific organism or organisms.

Actually, some types of arthritis (less than 1% of all cases) are known to be caused by a microorganism. However, rheumatoid arthritis—the most destructive form of arthritis affecting some five million American adults—is not one of these types.

Another body of evidence comes from arthritis-like diseases found in animals. Because these diseases are caused by bacteria or viruses, some scientists believe rheumatoid arthritis may also be caused by such organisms.

Various scientists have reported finding infectious agents also in the joints of rheumatoid arthritis patients. But others discount these claims, claiming that the organisms were merely contaminants picked up during experiments to isolate the organisms.

Also, the presence of an infectious agent in a joint does not necessarily mean that the organism is a causative agent or even harmful.

One possible reason no organisms have been definitely shown to be present in arthritis joints is that these organisms are difficult to culture by present methods.

Another possibility is that an agent may trigger the disease, but the agent comes from the joints when the disease finally manifests itself.

In the past, the prime suspect has been a bacterium. The main reason is that bacteria are the best known of all microorganisms. Other organisms are discovered in joints of patients with rheumatoid arthritis or a closely related disease.

Despite arguments against the germ theory of rheumatoid arthritis, such as the discovery of such an agent in arthritis joints, the inability of other researchers to confirm reported discoveries of infectious organisms in affected joints, and the ineffectiveness of antibiotics in treating arthritis, the idea of an infectious agent or agents is still on the ascent.

A joint war fund campaign will be conducted Nov. 11-18 for the seven welfare agencies serving the needs of soldier boys at home, in Europe and on the seas. Participating will be the YMCA, Knights of Columbus, Red Cross, Jewish Welfare Board, American Library Association, Salvation Army and War Camp Services. The Illinois quota is $127,000 and the national goal is $170,500,000.

One of three men who held up the Tri-City State Bank in Madison, obtaining $16,000, is also wanted for a safe-cracking in Macon, Mo.

Granite City high school students totaling 125 are participating in a "school and work" program in which they spend part of the day working at 42 war plants. Largest groups are at the National Enameling & Stamping Co., General Steel Castings Corp. and Continental Can Co.

Bond sales in Madison county in the third war loan drive total $4,127,394, or $978,860 short of the goal with three days left. An estimated 25,000 persons have purchased bonds out of a potential total of 40,000.

Split Over Revenue Healthy But Should Not Obscure Need for a New State Constitution

The 1870 Illinois Constitution is much in people's thoughts these days with the Nov. 5 referendum on calling a constitutional convention and the division that has developed over the convention proposal between Democrats and the AFL-CIO.

The difference of opinion centers on taxation and could be healthy, through encouraging greater interest and study by the public, and a bigger vote in November. However, it should not be allowed to divert attention from deficiencies of the existing constitution, which deals with not only revenue but all aspects of state government and the record number of local-level governments it has spawned. Limitations of the nearly century-old document have contributed to much inefficiency in the way governmental services are provided.

Urging revenue reform at their state conference, Illinois Democrats last week adopted a platform urging support of the "blue ballot" call for a constitutional convention. Ninety-eight of 99 county farm bureaus favor the plan. The convention would draw up a new state constitution, subject to approval or rejection of its wording at a second election.

The state labor council opposes the convention call on the assumption that it would lead to unfavorable taxing procedures, although it concedes that the delegates have not yet been elected and there is no way to predict what kind of revision they would make. President Reuber, Soderstrom wars against "special interest groups" and "frustrated wealthy tax dodgers who try to place a lighter tax burden on themselves and heavier burdens" on others, contending that they want a new constitution to enact basically the same Revenue Article which Illinois voters rejected in 1966.

The Democratic platform revenue plank is regarded as opening the way for possible future endorsement of a state income tax, although an income tax is far from certain to be part of a new constitution.

A sidelight is that an income tax is usually favored by those with low income but opposed by those of middle income who fear a disproportionate share of the tax load. The differing stands hint that the Democratic party now sees itself as primarily allied with the poor, while the AFL-CIO may regard most of its members as having moved into the middle income bracket.

The FORUM

Use of Dormitory Rooms to Entertain Visitors Challenged By Parents

Home and address must accompany each letter and will not be revealed if anonymity is requested. Communications of less than 250 words will be given preference. All letters are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those libelous or not in good taste will be rejected or edited.

To the Editor:
This letter is being written to inform taxpayers of Illinois and parents of students at the University of Illinois of proposals which would become effective with the spring semester, and which would be a very little off-campus publicity.

Several months ago a minority (so we are told) group of students requested that men and women students be allowed to visit each other in their rooms from 12 noon until 12 midnight every day.

The rooms where these visits will be made are bedrooms usually occupied by two students. Each occupant has a bed, one chair, a desk and a lamp. Quite a set-up for entertaining, isn't it?

And where will the student who wants to study go to entertaining?

We immediately voiced a protest to the eleven-member Board of Trustees, to President Board, David D. Henry, and to Chancellor Peltason.

Five of the board members had the courtesy to acknowledge our letters, and Chancellor Peltason informed us he was not one to jump to conclusions and would make his decision after he had reviewed the situation.

On Monday, one board member advised us this request for visits had been discussed at the president's conference and, although he disapproved, it appeared it was going to pass.

In the same meeting we received a clipping from the Daily Illini, the campus newspaper, stating that Dean of Students Milton C. Peltason had given his stamp of approval and it was almost certain Chancellor Peltason would, too. The hours on weekends had been extended to 1 a.m.

Dean Millet went on to say that students were going to be educated by their parents that these bedroom visits were perfectly all right. Can you agree to that?

We are told this is the trend, and the administration must "give" just a little in order to avoid demonstrations and trouble. Why? Could it be that no one in authority has the fortitude to stand up and say "No?"

Taxpayers and parents should be concerned. Students are supported by their tax dollars. If the University of Illinois approves this housing change, every other state university will be doing the same. Are taxpayers willing to support this type of housing?

Right now, they can do one of two things. Sit still there, shrug their shoulders, shake their head, put their tongue to the lower front teeth and say "Isk."

Or they can express disapproval by writing to Chancellor J. W. Peltason, University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill. 61801. Remember, if they don't write they have no reason to complain about taxes or immoral young people.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT BRAVE, Rural Route One, Box 642, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

LETTER SHOULD CAUSE VOTERS TO STOP, THINK TO THE EDITOR:

It would be interesting to know how many people in this city were shocked, enraged and then saddened when they read Mrs. Jackson's account of the verbal abuse she was subjected to recently by a toll collector.

She is quite right in her statement that "similar incidents elsewhere have provided the spark to raging fires that left untold property damage and loss of lives."

The toll collector was indeed fortunate that his incoherent, intelligent, articulate and rational remarks were not published.

I wish to thank you for publishing Mrs. Jackson's letter. If it caused even one person to pause and reflect in this "electronic" age, then I consider our teachers "scabs." We prefer to believe they're "stiches" to an open sore.

The healing process is often painful. But our children must have their chance. We don't consider our teachers "scabs." We prefer to believe they're "stiches" to an open sore.

Our children must be in school. We don't consider our teachers "scabs." We prefer to believe they're "stiches" to an open sore.

Two Madison Parents

Louis hospital employees at the toll plaza Sept. 15. No one should have to be subjected to the kind of abuse which was reported by the motorist, and the collector could well have been discharged or transferred to other duties.

There have been similar complaints about him, and certainly he should be fired if there are any more such incidents.

The reported conduct breaks all the rules for appropriate behavior by the public by an enterprise competing for public patronage, especially an enterprise with a declining business which has had to default on some of its financial commitments.

Along with violating sound business practice and common decency, the episode due to its nature raised other serious questions. It must not be repeated.

Leadership Key Element in Rejuvenating Downtown Area

Some communities with declining downtown areas have "turned the corner" and revitalized their central business districts. Others have not, and seen economic deterioration continue and worsen. The deciding factor usually has been the presence or absence of effective leadership.

It has been said that trying times often have brought to the fore a leader able to rise to the challenge confronting him and his fellow citizens.

This nation produced a Washington and a Lincoln at crucial periods in its history. In world war II, an Eisenhower was ready to take command.

With decisive, affirmative action clearly called for at this point in the history of downtown Granite City and the entire local community, one wonders if a leader will emerge to bring to reality the renewal and resurgence that have been proposed. The answer will directly affect, for better or worse, the future of all residents.

Time for Pledging a Fair Share to United Fund Is Fast Approaching

"D Day" for the annual fund campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund is fast approaching.

The drive kickoff is set for Oct. 7. Once solicitation begins, the pace will be a rapid one, with all contacts to be made and all pledges to be submitted within five weeks.

The "people helping people" approach which guides the work of the 19 United Fund agencies has proven to be effective, and joint financing has been found to be the most convenient for givers, who need to be called upon only once a year rather than every few days.

The only alternative would be to rely on taxing agencies to perform the essential services, and this would raise tax bills so greatly that the community would be unable to bear the burden. But the money must come from somewhere, and it is vital that all Quad-City residents, employees, businesses and organizations give enough to the United Fund to be able to distribute adequate operating funds for the health, welfare, service and character-building programs.

As is pointed out by Campaign Chairman Thomas R. Remington, a fair-share gift will vary from person to person, depending on income and obligations. Only the individual knows his own situation and his own ability to give.

But a fair-share standard accepted all over the country is one hour's pay per month. And, for salaried people, 1% of annual salary, spread over 12 months, is generally accepted. Many give more.

"Remember, your gift will be shared by 19 agencies. Be sure it is enough to give you that inner glow of satisfaction which comes from really helping others, generously."

Dialogue for Morally Confused Age

"Right and Wrong—A Philosophical Dialogue Between Father and Son," by Paul Weiss and Jonathan Weiss. Basic Books, Inc. 210 pages, $4.95.

Reviewed by Paul Arthur Schuchman, member of the Department of Philosophy faculty of Southern Illinois University. (Review published in the Daily Egyptian, SIU Department of Journalism, Carbondale.)

Dialogue is almost always more interesting than straight text. This is enhanced, moreover, when it is a discussion between father and son.

And when the father in the case happens to be a distinguished philosopher and the son is a philosophically well versed philosopher, one really expects something of significance.

Furthermore, when, in a morally basically confused age, this father-son dialogue is concerned with right and wrong, one really goes at it with reading with zest and eagerness.

Actually, the book by Paul Weiss and his son, Jonathan, on this subject is bound to be fascinating to most readers of popular books.

When they successfully discuss the person, the family, politics, society, man and the universe, finally, law, the reader's interest is never likely to flag.

This is because, for the most part, the discussion moves not merely on a relatively lofty plane, but concerns itself with problems and issues which touch the life of almost everyone.

But I am not sure that the book is well titled. It is not a "D Day" (out of a total of 210 pp) that the authors finally get to.

Separation of Vietnam Recalled

(U. S. Department of State)

Would it be possible to obtain the entire committee print of the U.S. Senate Committee on Foreign Relations entitled "Background Information Relating to Southeast Asia and Vietnam?"

I am especially interested in the conflicting remarks that appear which indicate that South Vietnam and North Vietnam are separate countries.

The Geneva Accords state, unequivocally, that the temporary military demarcation line shall not be considered a political subdivision.

I can't seem to find any other references to a political subdivision and wondered when this occurred.

Perhaps the SEATO Treaty is pertinent here.

I noticed on one of the pages that in Italy there is a side-slip in the discussions on the SEATO Treaty had been in progress for some time, but there was no indication of the time.

Could you enlighten me as to when discussions with respect to the SEATO Treaty were started?

M. S.
Dear Dr. S.:
Your statement about the demarcation line at the 17th parallel in Vietnam is correct.

The line was originally intended to serve the purely military purpose of keeping apart the armed forces of North and South Vietnam pending reunification of the country through nationwide elections, scheduled in the Geneva Conference Final Declaration to be held in July 1966.

It was not intended as a political division.

Conditions suitable for holding truly free elections in North Vietnam had not been created by July 1966, and the elections specified in the Geneva Conference Final Declaration have never been held.

As a result, with the passage of time, the demarcation line has assumed a de facto political significance.

CHICAGO POLICE WERE LENIENT TO TORMENTORS TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to express my view on the so-called police brutality and its repercussions at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

It seems to me that far too many of us got the co-sided view that the press preferred to apoplexy and the real side. Nobody talks about the Communist methods that these rebellious children used.

If we put ourselves in the policeman's position, how would we like bags of filth dropped on our heads from hotel windows or apples with razor blades protruding from them thrown at us?

I compliment the police on "keeping their cool" for three long days as the demonstrators tormented them. When the police finally did their jobs, name ly keeping trouble from developing and keeping the streets clean, people said they were cruel and vicious.

To them, I say the police waited too long to control the situation and used sound judgment in arresting the troublemakers. They were far too lenient in their actions.

The one thing that baffles me is why people must try to "buck the establishment," when anyone with an ounce of intelligence should realize that the establishment is far too big and powerful to listen to an insignificant group.

I prefer to retain the principle that people with good ideas should not let people know about them until they are in a position where they can put their ideas into effect.

Announcement was made this week from the IBM offices, of the promotion of Robert Orsey to first line executive position as manager of systems engineering in the Chicago midtown office.

Orsey joined IBM seven years ago as systems engineer working out of the Evanston Branch office, after receiving his B.S. degree from Northwestern University in June 1961. He trained in Poughkeepsie and Endicott, N.Y. and worked in the field of the Wisconsin and Chicago territory.

His most recent promotion in January was assistant data center manager of IBM Complex which services the midwestern area. He designed the floor plan which was used in the new offices of that building.

He will begin his new duties as manager on Sept. 30. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Orsey, Maryland Manor Township, 2117 Amos avenue, and was valedictorian of the 1957 graduating class at Granite City high school. His major at Northwestern University, which he attended on a scholarship, was in mathematics.

Bob Brammell, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brammell, 2345 State street, will be one of the recipients to receive Medals of Award for heroism from the Fleet Reserve Association on Saturday. Mayor Parney will be among the invited guests.

New Local Industry—Drapery Workroom, Going Strong

By VALERIE EVENDEN

A kaleidoscope of colors and exquisite fabrics greet the visitor to client to one of the Quad-Cities newest industries—the Drapery Workroom, Inc., which began operations at 2156 Pontoon road on June 24.

Despite the firm's brief operating period, its youthful-looking and enterprising production manager-owner, Mel Kline, already is facing the prospect of expansion. In anticipation of increased business throughout the midwestern and southern states and, eventually, to areas along the east coast, the present facilities will have to be enlarged, he said.

Kline, who with his wife, Sharon, also operates Kline's Interior Decorating and Gift Shop at 2700 Madison avenue, commented that the bulk of drapery orders currently processed at the local plant consists of contract work for interior decorators and retail stores in the two-state metropolitan area.

On a visit to the plant, it was noted, however, that many orders in various stages of production were destined for such out-of-state areas as Omaha, Neb., Cape Girardeau, Mo., the University of Missouri and a high school in Janesville, Wis.

Started on Small Scale

In a strict sense, the business is not new. The Klines have been in the drapery-making industry on a much smaller scale for many years. The work was handled at their Madison avenue shop.

Earlier this year, the couple decided to expand this phase of their overall business venture and leased the 50x75-foot concrete block structure on Pontoon road, which formerly housed Foodland Market. The premises had been vacant for several years and the building's interior required complete renovation for the new undertaking.

The owners installed the modern precision equipment, most of which is automated to eliminate the human-error factor, and hired specially trained, highly skilled operators.

15 Employees

The plant presently has a work force of 15 women, all local residents who work from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the well-lighted, fully air-conditioned building. Two of the women, Mrs. Dorothy Glasgow and Mrs. Lois Wolf, are supervisors.

Joining of material widths to create the wide window coverings needed in today's modern homes is accomplished with an automatic joiner machine, which insures that seams are perfectly flat without gathers or puckering and require no pressing.

All drapery fabrics used at the local workroom are inspected carefully for flaws and cut to custom measurements as the material travels over a lighted panel, backed with tubes of strong fluorescent lamps. This process is accomplished swiftly before any sewing on the drapery is initiated.

Other machinery eliminates the selvages, joins the widths together, marks the hem and sews side seams and hems.

A large flat table on which the partially completed drapery is placed by two women assures a straight vertical fold and absolute squareness in the finished product without stretching the material.

Automated 'Tabler'

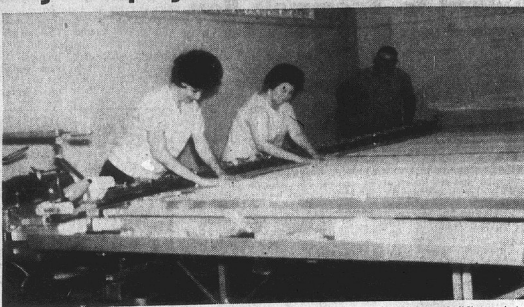

Complete consistency and accuracy for width and length is made possible through the new automated tabler, which also joins together crinoline/drapery fabric and lining in one exacting operation.

Pleats in the drapery headings are measured and marked by chalk under a black lamp, with the markings only becoming visible when placed under another lamp of the same type which illuminates a machine where the French pleat is tacked and sewn into permanent position.

Finished draperies are neatly "fan-folded" lengthwise and packed into special divided shipping boxes, an innovation of the owner, who explained that the packing boxes are designed to keep the draperies stationary during transit and eliminates steam pressing or further finishing touches by the customer when received.

Gold, Greens-Favorites

Although draperies of many hues were evident at the factory, the predominant colors were golds, greens and oranges. Shades ran the color spectrum from avocado to Kelly green, banana yellow to deep gold and pille mellow to brilliant orange. Most popular fabrics, at the present time, are brocades and antique satins, however, plain coarser-looking material was being used for institutional curtains that always are manufactured of a flame-proof fabric.

Locking the material in place are Mrs. Linette Cagle (left) and Mrs. Margie Norwood, as Mel Kline, production manager-owner of the plant, observes the process.

One unusual fabric had the appearance of hand-crocheted or knitted work, combining multitudes of greens, oranges and yellows in its colored strands. Another material requiring great care in cutting and sewing is fiber glass which can be woven into a sheer or give the appearance of hop-sacking.

We are just beginning the busy drapery season — from now until Christmas," the owner explained. "Orders are coming in fast and we are processing them as quickly as possible."

The vast array of colors and fabrics tends to overwhelm a visitor to the plant, making it difficult to select a favorite. One woman employee commented, "We have so many beautiful fabrics when it comes time to choose your own draperies, it is almost impossible."

Own Drapes Delayed

It was interesting to note the large plate glass windows at the front of the building were bereft of draperies. The fact brought a quick explanation from Kline, who produced a sheer, blue-green fused striped material which has been selected for the firm's windows when time permits them to be processed.

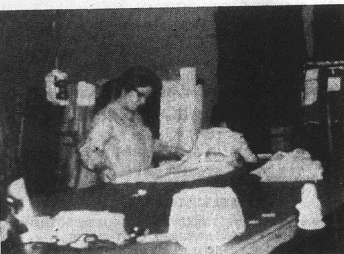

Individual retail shoppers may not order draperies at the plant, but must select fabrics and patterns at the Madison avenue gift shop. Kline explained that most of the out-of-town contract work is completed with material provided by the customer-firm.

If business continues at its present pace, and it appears likely to do so, the Klines may have to devote even more of their time to the Drapery Workroom, retaining part of the gift shop as a retail order outlet, but relinquishing the remaining portion of the enterprise to others, the owner indicated.

INTRICATE PATTERNS are matched exactly by Mrs. Lucy Skaggs (left), who also measures lengths of challis to line draperies, as she discusses a minor problem with Mrs. Dorothy Glasgow, a supervisor at the Drapery Workroom plant, 2156 Pontoon road.

FA 151 Grading Behind Schedule Because of Rain

Grading work on FA Route 151 (the Great River Road) from north of Pontoon road to Niedringhaus avenue in Granite City is running at least two weeks behind schedule because of repeated rainfall in recent weeks, according to James Steele, project supervisor for Sangamo Construction Co. of Springfield, Ill., contractor for the job.

Intermittent rains during the past few weeks have turned many sections of the 3.29-mile stretch into a sea of mud that makes grading work impossible, Steele said. He pointed out even further delay will be encountered because a drying-out period will be required even after it stops raining.

Steele said that grading work has been under way wherever possible along the entire stretch of the Route-151 development which is scheduled for opening to traffic by mid-July next year.

Work also has been under way on curb and guttering installations along widened Niedringhaus avenue about a block east of the Army Depot gate, Steele said. Weather permitting, installation of a median strip in Niedringhaus avenue will be started next week, he added.

Laying of asphalt sub-base for the highway paving also is scheduled to get under way within a matter of days if weather permits, Steele said. He said this work will start at the extreme north end of the project, just north of Pontoon road. If it is possible, he said, this work will start tomorrow.
